RETURNS FROM ROME

Rev. Patrick O'Neill, Brother of Mrs. M. J. Flarity, of this City, Now at Home of His Parents in Augusta.

The following item from the Catholic Telegraph is of interest to Maysville readers, Rev. O'Neill being the brother of Mrs. M. J. Flarity, of this city:

"Sunday will be a notable day at Augusta, Kentucky, when Rev. Patrick O'Neill, O. S. B. will sing his first solemn mass in his home parish, St. Augustine. Father Patrick, who before entering the Benedictine Order, was Fred O'Neill, has just returned to this country after four years of study in Rome, having arrived in New York on September 10. He was ordained to the priesthood at Rome in February, 1915, but remained there to continue his theological studies. The occasion of his return to his native parish will be a gala one, as Father Patrick has many friends in his home town. He is at present a guest at the Benedictine Abbey at Newark, N. J., and expects to remain for some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neill, of Augusta.

At a patriotic meeting which will be held at the Woman's Club rooms this afternoon a trained nurse who has seen active service abroad will make an address.

GEORGE W. DYE

Former Mason Countian Dies at His Home in Canton, Ohio, Wednesday—Remains Arrived Here This Morning and Were Taken to Shannon Cemetery For Burial.

Word was received here yesterday by friends that "Judge" George W. Dye had passed away suddenly at his home in Canton, Ohio, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. No further particulars were given only that his remains would arrive here this morning at 10 o'clock and would be taken direct to the Shannon cemetery for burial.

"Judge" Dye was for many years one of the most prominent men in this county, having for a number of years conducted a general merchandise store at Sardis. In this manner he became acquainted with a large number of people, who always remained his friends. In later years he disposed of his store at Sardis and came to this city to make his home. He resided here only a short time, moving to Canton, Ohio, where he has made his home for the past several years. He was 86 years of age at the time of his death, and although well up in years he was quite active up until the time of his death.

"Judge" Dye's geniality was typical of the state of Kentucky and because of this fact he always had a large host of friends, who now grieve to learn that he has passed to the great beyond.

Mr. Dye is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Grigsby, of Canton, Ohio, with whom he made his home, and one son, Colonel Dave Dye, of Cincinnati. His wife preceded him to the grave a number of years ago.

CAR DERAILED ON L. & N. SIDING

A cut of about ten cars which was being set in on the L. & N. siding by the yard crew got away from the crew last night about 7 o'clock and ran into some empty freight cars that were on the track near the intersection of the C. & O. One of the cars hit the derailed and was almost toppled over. The car was slightly damaged but can be easily repaired as soon as it is again set on the track. It was most fortunate that the car did not go over the embankment.

COBURN'S MINSTRELS COMING

The ever popular Coburn's Greater Minstrels have been booked by the management of the Washington Opera House to give a performance here Tuesday night, October 9. This is the first big attraction of the season and will no doubt draw a large crowd. Dr. L. M. McGill, prominent Lewis county physician, died suddenly at his home in Yanceyburg Thursday.

400 AT CAMP TAYLOR

Are Recommended Rejected—Medical Officers Beginning Hard Fight Against Trachoma.

Louisville, Ky., September 27—About 400 men in the second increment of drafted men to date have been recommended for rejection by the Reviewing Board of Examiners at Camp Zachary Taylor.

Lieut. Col. John H. Allen, division surgeon and chief examiner, will personally take care of the case of each recommended for discharge from the service because of physical disability before he will finally ask that they be discharged. The work of the Reviewing Board is not yet concluded, and more probably will be recommended for rejection.

Medical officers at the camp are beginning a hard fight against the disease of trachoma with which seventy-five men of the new draft quota are suffering and are confined at the base hospital. Dr. John McMullen, of the United States Public Health Service, now stationed at Lexington, will report at the camp within the next several days to aid camp officers in the campaign against the disease. Dr. McMullen is the trachoma expert for the Government in Kentucky.

JAMES M. RANKINS

Former Maysvillian Dies at Home in Mt. Olivet Last Tuesday Night.

(Mt. Olivet Tribune-Democrat)
Mr. James M. Rankins, one of Mt. Olivet's aged and well-known citizens died suddenly at his home on North Main street about 8 o'clock Tuesday night. He had been in bad health for several years to an extent that incapacitated him from doing any special labor or give close attention to business, but he bore his suffering with great fortitude and was as cheerful as one could be under the circumstances. He was able to get about as usual Tuesday and chatted pleasantly with those he met on the street. Shortly after the shades of night began to gather he was sitting in a chair in front of his home when he grew ill and went to his room and laid down on the bed, in the meantime having Dr. E. E. Linville called. On the arrival of Dr. Linville, Mr. Rankins stated he was suffering with a pain in the region of the heart. The doctor gave a tablet to relieve him and stepped into a rear room to procure a piece of paper to wrap up some additional medicine and on his return found Mr. Rankins struggling. Realizing the seriousness of Mr. Rankins' condition, Dr. Linville hurriedly summoned Mr. Rankins' son, James L. Rankins, and on their arrival only a few moments elapsed before he breathed his last. Mrs. Rankins was calling at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Gates near the Baptist Church and could not reach her home before the vital spark had fled.

Mr. Rankins was a native of Mason county and past 68 years of age. For several years he was engaged in business in Maysville and conducted a livery stable on West Third street. He bought an interest in the Mt. Olivet & Maysville bus-line and located with his family in Mt. Olivet. For years he made regular daily trips to Maysville, carrying the mail and passengers and hauling goods, retiring from the business broken in health.

Deceased is survived by his wife and three children—two sons, J. L. Rankins, carrier on Mt. Olivet Rural Route No. 1, and Dr. G. C. Rankins, of Walton, Ky., and one daughter, Mrs. L. B. Harber, of Kenton town, Ky. He is also survived by five grandchildren.

Chicago, September 27—Four privates of the 45th United States Infantry, stationed at Fort Sheridan, were run over and instantly killed by a North Shore electric train at Highland Park last night.

The men were on leave of absence and were attempting to board a south-bound train. It is believed they were disconcerted by the rain and fog and were unaware of the nearness of the train which ran over them. The dead:

Addison Dehart, 20, Dewdrop, Elkhart county, Ky.

SLACKERS

It is an oddly interesting "slacker" story that comes from Cleveland. Six men were haled before the district attorney, charged with failure to register for selective service. They were five negroes and a white man.

"You men ought to be ashamed of yourselves!" said the district attorney. "Why aren't you willing to fight for the country that protects you and gives you the chance to make a good living?"

"Why, boss," protested a strapping colored man in tattered blue overalls, "we're willing—all of us!"

"That's right!" chorused the other four negroes.

"Read the law, then," retorted the attorney, "and see what you've done by failing to register."

"Boss, we can't read," was the mournful answer. "We never had no schoolin'." We never heard 'bout that law."

"Are you willing to fight?"

"You bet we are, boss!"

Then the federal attorney turned to the white prisoner, who sat scowling silently, and asked him whether he was willing to fight.

"Oh, I don't believe in war," he muttered. "I'd rather go to jail than serve in your army." So he went to jail. The others are joining the army.

Now isn't that an odd situation—the illiterate eager to fight when the situation is explained to them, and the intelligent citizen shirking? The incident is not a solitary one. It has been observed, with little variation, over and over again, in nearly every part of the country.

What does it mean? So far as that white man and his like are concerned, it may signify that there's something wrong with our scheme of education. As regards the rest, it seems to prove that the heart of the "lower classes" is sound and patriotic to the core.

JAPAN INCREASES SALES TO U. S.

The president of the Yokohama Specie Bank delivered an address recently in the course of which he commented upon the phenomenal prosperity of Japan, and said that the main causes for the favorable turn of foreign trade were, first, export of munitions and other classes of cargo; second, increase in exports to America, and other causes which he enumerated. We must not lose sight the fact that shipments to America constituted the second item in his list of causes. Neither should we overlook the certainty that although Japan is our friend in this war, and we hope, our friend in all international relations, yet she is our commercial and industrial competitor. She will try to hold all the trade she has acquired during the war, and it is the business of America to take and hold all we can by honorable means. Japan will not concede us more than she must. Her increased shipments to America have strengthened her hold on our markets. Her lower standards of wages and living will be a great advantage to her in the after-war competition. Heretofore we have depended upon a protective tariff to shield the American producer from disastrous competition of this kind. What shall be our policy in the future?

ROMANCE

The young gentleman from West Virginia who wrote his name on an egg shipped from his father's farm together with the statement that he wanted a "nice little wife" has received a blow in the answer from a woman who replied briefly and effectively "You poor boob!"

"Has romance died?" is the caption put on the story by an editor who prints it. That question is easy to answer. Romance is deathless. But the woman who got the inscribed egg had sense enough to know that the type of romance indicated was a flimsy sort on which to build a lifework.

Love may be blind, but the true romance has vision. And it requires a more substantial foundation than an eggshell.

May the sentimental youth find a sensible happiness around the corner. One doesn't need to wish romance for the iconoclastic young woman. She'll get hers all right.

ROOSEVELT

Visits Army Cantonment—Sight Assanges Ire Against Pacifists For Time — Colonel Chats With Recruits, Returns Innumerable Salutes and Has "Bully Time"
Generally.

Camp Grant Rockford, Ill., September 26—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's indignation against pacifists and slackers was assuaged for a time here today, when he inspected 19,000 of the "right kind of Americans" in this continent.

He chatted with recruits, returned innumerable salutes, listened to martial music and had a "bully time" generally. The Colonel addressed the honor men briefly and then took a train for Chicago.

In the course of his trip he met Captain H. C. Etgen, of the signal corps.

"When you speak in my state, Wisconsin, please preach straight American doctrine," requested the captain.
Later Colonel Roosevelt, speaking to members of his escort said:

"I'm going to oblige Captain Et-gen."

Military efficiency, described as "extraordinary" by army officers who accompanied the former president, marked the handling of the thousands of raw recruits as they were marched to the little valley behind camp headquarters, where Colonel Roosevelt spoke. Newly commissioned officers from the first reserve officers' training camp maneuvered their companies into position with scarcely a hitch, while the elaborate preparations for the reception of the Colonel were carried out with equal smoothness.

TRONTON HAS PUZZLING SKELE- TON CASE

A girl's skeleton was found on the Jane McCormack farm three miles below Russell, Ky., this morning by a son of Thomas Snoddy, who was cutting weeds on the farm. The flesh-less bones were found under a large poplar tree and there were no evidence of any effort to secret the body.
From all that can be told about the body it is that of a girl about 15 years of age. It seems to have been in the spot where it was found about four months. The flesh rotted or had been eaten away and the bones were bleached white. The child's hair was dark brown and her teeth were perfect. She wore a white and blue checked dress and No. 2 button shoes which had been half sold. The shoes had been removed before the girl's death for both stockings were in one shoe. A string of cheap white beads held their place about the neck. When the skeleton was found the young man reported to the Greenup county authorities and they began an investigation immediately, but up to 3 o'clock today had learned nothing that would throw any light upon the case.

INTERESTING LETTER

From Maysville Boy Now at Camp Sherman, Near Chillicothe, O.

Camp Sherman, Ohio, Sept. 22, 1917.
C. B. 330th Regiment.
Public Ledger:

Am here at last, arrived Thursday at 1:30 p. m. I sure looked blue to me when I got off the train, which stopped at the Camp five miles from Chillicothe. Things began to look better as we marched through the Camp. We would march a while and then sit down a while. They sure had some time getting the boys settled in their different apartments.

A big bunch of fellows is just marching past with their baggage. They just got in. They have been coming in day and night ever since I have been here. There sure looks to me as if there were enough fellows here right now to lick all Europe, not counting the other camps.

About 4:30 they took us in a place and gave each one of us a double tin pan to eat out of, knife, fork and spoon and a metal cup for coffee and soup. We then had supper, which was very good; looked like a bunch of campers sure enough sitting in the "Mess House" eating. When you finish eating you have to go outside and wash your own "dishes." Did you get that word dishes? We then proceeded to go to our bunk house and take it for me it was some bunk house too. We had iron cots with good springs but no mattresses or blankets. We had to sleep on the bare springs. About 2 o'clock in the morning they woke us up and gave us a mattress a piece. Then we had to go outside and fill them with straw. I nearly froze to death. The next night we had our beds all fixed and everything was like home to us. They have good eating here. The camp is six miles long and two and one-half miles wide.

They haven't finished all the buildings yet. It is just a regular little city. All the streets are laid off and named after Cincinnati's streets. Fifth and Walnut up here is different from Cincy.

They have nine Y. M. C. A.'s. In each one they have singing, dancing, picture shows and everything. You can get a look at the daily papers and read.

There are four of us fellows that sleep together. Two of my Cincinnati friends, one Maysville boy by the name of Henry Baum and myself. Pickett McClanahan is far from me. There is a hundred fellows here I know. Several of whom formerly lived in Maysville years ago. We have not done anything, but sleep, eat, play baseball, foot ball and have a general good time ever since we have been here. Suppose we will get examined Monday and that's when we're "shot in the arm," which is done to prevent typhoid fever. Then we will drill and drill. Don't suppose we will get our suits and outfit for a month or so. They won't allow us outside of the camp until we get them. I think the reason is, they are afraid we might go to Chillicothe and get stewed. The other soldiers have to be in at 11 o'clock, but we have to be in at 9 bells. It is a little tough now, but I will have to admit that it will be mighty fine for us fellows when everything is straightened out. At least I am satisfied and think the rest of the boys are too.

There is about 40,000 of us here now, just enough to have a good time with. By tomorrow night there is supposed to be 70,000 here.

We have churches for the protestants and also for the Catholics. Beans, beans, beans, we had them for the first meal, but still they are pretty good.

This is some job, if a guy doesn't happen to like it he can't quit and "By George" he can't get fired. A Second Lieutenant is in charge of it, and he is sure one fine fellow, in fact, all of the officers that I have seen are the same way.

They are not hardly prepared here to take care of the boys, but I guess as the old saying is, "anything will have to go on in war times." We are off to get the Kaiser and never stop until we do.

One bunch came in yesterday from Middletown, Ohio, carrying a large bunch of flowers. They said the "bunch" at home gave them to be put on the Kaiser's grave. They were a little withered but I guess they will do for him. Well I suppose I have wrote enough for this time. Will close with best regards from Co. B. and myself. Hoping to hear from you soon.

I remain,
Yours truly,
HOWARD RUDY.

THE DAILY REMINDER

In The Day's News

Carl Vrooman, who is to address the convention of the American Bankers' Association today on the subject of agricultural production, is the assistant secretary of agriculture of the United States. Though a native of Missouri, he has lived for many years in Illinois, and has been more or less in public life since his graduation from Harvard in 1894. Mr. Vrooman is not a theorist, and the advice he gives on agricultural problems is based on knowledge and common sense. He owns a large farm near Bloomington, Ill., which is managed on scientific principles and with financial success. So he knows from practical, personal experience what he is talking and writing about and the advice he furnishes the public, in the effort to increase food production and create more efficient use of farm products, is based on knowledge, not on theory.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF
Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Maysville Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as representative.

The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of friends is. Now supposing you had a bad back, a lame, weak, or aching one, would you experiment on it? You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from far-away places. It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove local testimony. Read this Maysville case: Ben. P. Fleming, constable of Mason Co., 217 E. Lee St., Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years, getting them at Wood & Son's Drug Store, and they have been of great benefit. At times, my kidneys have been out of order and I have suffered from a dull, constant ache through the small of my back. The kidney secretions have been irregular in passage, too. A box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to relieve me of the complaint in a short time."

Mr. Fleming is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Fleming had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60c all stores. Washington, September 26—Provost Marshal General Crowder, in a statement Tuesday, said a number of instances had been reported where men subject to call for the national army had enlisted in the regular army, the national guard or other branches of the military service after their names had been posted calling them for examination. In all such instances the men are discharged and ordered to report to the national army examining boards at their own expense.
